SALARY RAISED TO $2,500

Dr. Jenkins Accepts
Care of Baptist Church.

DR. NASH GOES TO TEX.

Other Church Notes of More or Less Local Interest

At a church meeting of the Baptist church Sunday, it was determined to make an increase of $500 in the pastor's salary, provided Dr. M. A. Jenkins can be induced to accept the call made Sept. 5. Dr. Jenkins has been called to Brantley church, at a salary of $2,500 and the promise of an assistant. Also to Roanoke, Va., at $2,000 and the promise of an increase. The salary here has been $1,700 cash, a parsonage that will cost for $300 and a month's vacation on pay. This salary of $2,000 has been, by vote of the church, increased to $2,500, with the usual vacation but without the use of the parsonage. This puts Hopkinsville on an even basis with Baltimore and ahead of all other churches seeking Dr. Jenkins' services. While he has repeatedly said that he would not let the salary be a consideration in arriving at a decision, the church did not feel that it ought to expect a pastor to give whose services were in demand elsewhere at a higher salary than he was offered here. It was further agreed that he would be granted a leave of absence to make a trip to the Orient next year, he to furnish a supply during his absence. A final decision is expected from Dr. Jenkins in a few days and if he comes he will be here by November 1st.

Accepts Call to Texas.

Rev. Chas. H. Nash, D. D., former pastor of the Hopkinsville Baptist church, whose resignation was accepted Sept. 5, has accepted a call at Temple, Texas, and has already entered upon his duties. He left last Tuesday and has wired his family that he will not return to Hopkinsville. Mrs. Nash and daughter, Miss May, will start for their new home in a few days. Dr. Nash's son, Chas. H. Nash, who is in business here, will remain. The salary is $2,000, a parsonage, the expense of moving and two months' vacation.

COLORED PEOPLE

Death of Three Within Past Few Days.

Fletcher Warden suffered a paralytic stroke at his home on East First street Friday night and death resulted Sunday. He was 52 years old.

Ben Dade, formerly of this place, died in Madisonville Saturday of typhoid fever, aged 35 years. The remains were brought here and interred Sunday.

Forman Jefferson, aged 27, died of pneumonia Friday at his home on North Liberty street.

LOST $750

By Not Having a Full Com- pany to Drill.

The Uniform Rank, K. of P., returning Saturday from New Orleans, having had a most delightful trip to the supreme lodge meeting. They had only 22 men along and as it took 29 to complete for prizes they were unable to enter the list. They had to stand by and see the poorest kind of companies get the prizes. They lost $750 by not having seven more men on hand to pick up a good thing.

Destroy the Leaves.

If citizens will remove the leaves from the gutters in front of their homes it will greatly aid the city authorities. If they are allowed to wash into the sewers it will cause much trouble and as they are constantly falling it is impossible for the city to keep the gutters free without the help of property owners.

each year with an appropriation for water, light, sewerage, telephone and fuel.

A few days ago Dr. and Mrs. Nash were presented with an elegant and costly silver service and Dr. Nash with a gold-headed cane. More than 100 members of the church contributed to the fund raised to purchase the presents.

Against Divorces.

One of the planks in the resolutions adopted by Tennessee Baptists before their adjournment at Clarksville Saturday, urged that no minister perform the marriage ceremony for any person divorced for other than a scriptural reason.

Dr. Cannon Preached.

Rev. S. J. Cannon preached at the Baptist church Sunday evening to a large congregation. At the morning hour only a prayer service was held, conducted by Dr. Edmund Harrison.

ORDER OPENING MEANS AVENUE.

Council Transacts Much
Routine Business Friday Night.

CARNIVAL EXTENDED.

Mayor Authorized to Draw
Warrants For $15,000
For Colored Schools.

The city council met Friday night in regular session with the mayor and six councilmen present, Councilman Ware being sick.

Much of the time was taken up in correcting errors in the tax list. J. P. Tate, Mrs. J. D. Hill, L. Yonts, the American Snuff Co., and Flack & Dabney were among those whose lists were reported incorrect. These and other corrections made, aggregated about $30,000 of decreases from the reported list of $2,931,000. City Collector H. C. Moore reported that he had listed and verified property omitted by the assessor amounting to $78,700 property of whites and $28,400 of blacks. This leaves the total assessment a little more than $3,000,000. An application to open a saloon on Ninth street between Main and Virginia was refused.

The National Fraternal Union made application for an extension of one week in their carnival privileges on account of the rainy weather. The extension was granted.

The mayor was authorized to draw warrants from time to time, during next year, to the amount of $1,500, for the benefit of the colored public schools, same to be paid from the school fund.

Councilman Clark, of the Corporations committee, reported that L. M. Shepherd, of the City Light Co., had submitted a proposition to renew the current street lighting contract upon the same terms, $75 each for 75 lights, and additional lights at $70 and when ninety lights were taken to make the price $70 on all of the lights. Councilman Davis moved to amend the proposition to accept 90 lights for $6,000, or $66.66 each. This motion prevailed and Mr. Shepherd was given until the next meeting to consider it, although he stated that his company could not accept the price, as he expected to put in a new and improved light system at a heavy outlay. The matter went over for two weeks.

An ordinance was passed providing for opening a new street from Main street, north of Little River, to the north end of Elm street, to be called "Means Avenue." It will run near the river and will be 40 feet wide and 1,300 feet long, passing through the lands of Mrs. S. A. Means and Dalton Bros. The land will have to be condemned in the usual ways.

The street will supply a great need for a direct connection between the West side and North side of the city. It is proposed to open the street as soon as possible.

An ordinance extending the fire limits from Water street to Elm street, between Fourth and Eleventh streets, was passed. Also an ordinance prohibiting the erection within the fire limits of any structure built of iron. Only brick, stone or concrete walls will be considered fire-proof.

The employment of an assistant to the Sexton, to live in one of the new cemetery cottages, was referred to the cemetery committee.

Ready for Brick.

The foundation for the Climax Mills building is about complete and the bricklayers were to begin work yesterday, but owing to the non-arrival of the expected steel beams that had been ordered, work was delayed a day or so. The manager, Mr. Ross Rogers, says the work will be pushed to as speedy a completion as possible.

FALL FESTIVAL SHUT DOWN.

urday Night, Others
Probably Stranded.

DID POOR BUSINESS.

After Obtaining Permission for Continuance Afraid to Try Again.

All is over, and the people feel glad of it. After a week of trying to pull through without losing money, the fall festival played out Saturday night. The Fraternal Union, composed of many of our best people, is said to be in a great big hole in its effort to give the people a list of attractions worthy of their support. They have the sympathy of the people, and it is not their fault that they "played to losing houses." The attractions were few, and did not "attract" as was expected.

Mrs. A. L. Midgley, whose job it was to do the spelling and control attractions, was seen yesterday, and was about as mad as a man often gets. He lays the whole blame on the committee, and says that the show men were not treated as they should have been, and some of them did not have money enough to take them away from Hopkinsville. He said that Madame Cortley, the juggler, had started to Buffalo, N. Y., but he doubted if she had money enough to take her there. The Coliseum people, he said, were all in bad shape financially, and what they were to do he could not tell.

The collapse of the festival may be attributed to several causes, principally from the fact that the people have become tired of carnivals and such like. Another reason is that many of the attractions that had been engaged failed to come, and there was really nothing to draw a crowd of any size.

The show people, in their dilemma, have, we learn, determined to bring suit against the committee to recover from them what they claim is due them. The situation is most discouraging to the show people, and many of them may have to stay here much longer than they will like.

Early yesterday morning the lighting company was taking down its electrical apparatus, and many of the little catch-penny stands were overturned, dejected actors and actresses were sitting about the tent doors, a whole lot of fellows who had been connected with the festival were gathered about the grounds in groups, and everything wore the look of failure and hopelessness.

This may be the last carnival we will have for years.

JOE SPRINGFIELD

Released From Prison, Enjoyed His Freedom
One Day.

Joe Springfield, the negro who was tried and acquitted last Thursday on the charge of shooting Elihu Dougherty, near Fairview, and after languishing in prison for several months, did not enjoy his freedom very long. Saturday he was so happy over his release that he got on the outside of too much whiskey and was soon in prison again. He sent for his old lawyers to get him out of his trouble a second time, but they declined to have anything to do with his case. Joe's lessons are costing him high, but it may be that he will learn to behave himself some day.

Thoughts in My Own.
It is because love is blind that so much courting is done in the dark.

There never was a bed so soft and downy as your own after you have been away for a few nights.

Man is equal to the tasks given him to do even as the attenuated web the spider is strong enough to hold the fly.

A fellow out of a job wants to work, and the fellow with a job wants to take a "lay-off." This is the way of the world.

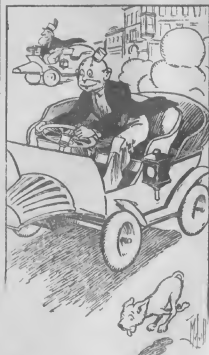

Believe in something, trust somebody. It will keep your hope freshened and your heart light. The pessimist is the friendliest of men.

Destroy the ideals and nobility of man and you place him on the plane of the animal. Inspire idealism! It is the hope of your life and the lives of your fellows.

Too many men, like the Ancient Mariner who shot the albatross, tempt Fate by their own foolish actions. It never pays to take the trouble to look for trouble.

Blasphemy is the silliest of vices. It gives no pleasure, tickles no aches and is merely a bad and disgusting form of speech that no gentleman should use.

The old-fashioned advice to go to bed with the lamb and rise with the lark is much disregarded these days. We go to bed when our pleasures are exhausted and get up when we are called—sometimes.

"If beggars could be choosers there would be more automobiles on the drive. Mounted beggars ride fast, you know."

We often hear the expression, "As gentle as a dove." As a matter of fact the dove is not at all gentle in his demeanor. Among his kind he fights and scolds in the coop, pecking away with his beak in a most ugly fashion. Two carrier doves will grab hold of each other and hang on like bulldozers, but if the average man were as fond of home as the carrier pigeon, what a domesticated heaven this would be!

I have often wondered what the flocks of blackbirds are talking about in the Fall when they gather for their pilgrimage southward. They jabber, jabber for hours and apparently are as excited as can be. When a man or woman is about to make a long journey away from home, he or she is apt to be subdued in manner, regretful of the leaving. Not so with the blackbirds. They are as noisy as birds possibly can be and all talk at once. They certainly must have a language and must understand each other or else they are very silly birds to make such a babel of mere notes.

My Love, I Long.
The goldenrod is blooming by the road. The brown-eyed-susans dip upon this breeze. The katydids are "chiding." Their everlasting "chiding." And sighing winds sigh softly in the trees. The melancholy season. It is a season to reason. Will soon be here in full of autumn hue; It is coming, coming, coming. And I long, my love, for you!

The hazy days are shortening hour by hour. The dried vines rustle softly in the sun; The river ripples dimpling. Are continuously whirling. And frothing by the Frost King has been. The spider-web is weaving. Will soon be here in full of autumn hue; It is coming, coming, coming. And I long, my love, for you!

The wintry months are coming swift and sure. The Wind King soon will send his draughts of cold. The chill air will be calling. But I know you will be willing To build the morning fires when you are alone. "I need to hear them burning When sleep I'm turning." I'll love you just as once I used to do if you'll build 'em, build 'em, build 'em! And I long, my love, for you!

Our Pattern Department

A PRETTY TUCKED BLOUSE.

Pattern No. 5643.—This dainty flange blouse is one of the most attractive of the season. The style is generally becoming, but particularly so to the slender woman, as the deep pleat at the shoulder gives with the figure, and lends additional fullness in front. The arrangement of the tucks in vest effect leaves a space in front, thus affording a fine opportunity for a bit of handwork, or a pretty design in lace. If elbow sleeves are not desired the pattern provides for full length sleeves finished by deep cuffs. As shown in the illustration, white China silk was used, trimmed with narrow Valenciennes insertion; but several materials are adaptable such as mul, duity, organza, batiste and taffeta silk. For 36 inches bust measure, three and one-quarter yards of 27-inch material will be required. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

This pattern will be sent to you on receipt of 10 cents. Address all orders to the Pattern Department of this paper. Be sure to give size and number of pattern wanted. For convenience, write your order on the following coupon:

For a child of three years two yards of 36-inch material will be required. Sizes for 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years.

Birds Have Spectacles.
Many birds are provided with natural spectacles, a transparent membrane called the third eyelid. The third eyelid when not in use lies folded in the inner corner of the eye. Two muscles work it, spreading it over the cornea or folding it up again much more cleverly than a man can put on or take off his spectacles. But for this third eyelid the eagle could not look at the sun.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased part of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is cured by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

To all whom it may concern:
Attention is hereby called to the following statement of facts and announcement:

The Synod of Kentucky of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at the close of its session at Greenville, Ky., October 26, 1906, adjourned to meet at Hopkinsville, Ky., October 30, 1906, at 7:30 p. m. This Synod, by the consummation of the reunion and union of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the Presbyterian church U. S. A. in May, 1906, now becomes the Synod of Kentucky "A" of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., and according to the adjourned order meets at Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 30, 1906, at 7:30 p. m.

The Old Reliable Jewelry House

of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any Jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality, is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble runs upon the mind, discourages and lessens vitality, leaves vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child survives to the age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, leaving upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

When as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and who need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle, please mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HERNDON LETTER.

Home Phone Soon to Enter That Town.

Herndon, Ky., Oct. 20.—The heavy rains which fell Wednesday night and Thursday have caused the roads to become almost impassable again and also stopped the wheat sowing. The young farmers seem to be very glad of this though, as they can attend the carnival now.

Dr. Mrs. L. E. Gates spent Monday in Hopkinsville.

Miss Katie Mitchell is visiting relatives in Hopkinsville.

Mrs. George Wooley, of Centralia, Ill., is here for an extended visit to relatives.

Mr. Jack Stone, of Sturgis, is visiting his brother, Mr. J. E. Stone, at this place.

Mr. C. W. Johnston and sister were guests of friends in Tennessee Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Victor Hardy, of Nashville, and Miss Mary Anderson, of Hopkinsville, visited friends here last week.

Our progressive little city is soon to have the Home 'phone. The work is being pushed rapidly and will probably reach us in about 30 days.

Misses Mattie and Mary Major, who are attending school in Hopkinsville, are at home for Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. W. E. Mitchell, our popular blacksmith, is much grieved over the loss of his little dog, Trix, which was lost at the Presbyterian church at Bennetts town on Sunday night, Sept. 16. The dog is a small fox terrier, yellow, and is rather old. Knows its name well. Any information leading to its recovery will be appreciated by its owner. He was last seen near Roaring Spring.

Services will be held at the Methodist church here the fourth Sunday by Rev. Archee, the new pastor, who comes to us very highly recommended. As hickorynut and chestnut hunting is the Sunday occupation of the young people, we would be glad to have preaching every Sunday.

Our little sister city, Garrettsburg, recently advertised for a good blacksmith. We would call our neighbor's attention to the fact that we have a first-class establishment of that kind again now and all the surrounding neighborhood have no excuse now to go to Hopkinsville to have work of that kind done. Not only ought the farmers of this neighborhood patronize Messrs. Mitchell & Futrell, the blacksmiths, but they ought to patronize every one of our merchants by buying such things of them as they have, and it wouldn't be long before Herndon would be the best little town in South Christian. I. B. WISE.

Avoid alum and alum phosphate baking powders. The label law requires that all the ingredients be named on the labels. Look out for the alum compounds.

NOTE.—Safety lies in buying only Royal Baking Powder, which is a pure, cream of tartar baking powder, and the best that can be made.

Inheritance Tax.

The new inheritance tax law of Kentucky will be operative for the first time in the case of Louis Miltz, an aged miser, who died in Louisville, leaving an estate valued at $15,000. It is said that the inheritance tax and delinquent city, county and state taxes will reduce the estate to $12,000. The legatees named in his will mainly are brothers in Germany.

AT HOME AGAIN.

Evangelist W. J. Hudspeth and his party returned from Buffalo Saturday and reported a splendid and most enjoyable trip. About 5,000 attended the International Conventions of the Christian church, which convened in Buffalo Oct. 12th and continued in session up to and including the 18th. The following persons went from South Kentucky in Mr. Hudspeth's party:

Rev. H. D. Smith, Prof. A. C. Kuykendall and wife, Mrs. J. R. Armistead, Mrs. W. J. Hudspeth, Hopkinsville; Mrs. J. W. Carter, Pembroke; T. T. Roberts and three ladies, Morgantown; J. C. ## CUTICURA REMEDIES WORK WONDERS

Mr. A. C. Barnett, proprietor of a general store in Avard, Oklahoma, tells in the following grateful letter how Cuticura cured him and his son of terrible eczema:

"My little boy had eczema. His head was one solid sore, all over his scalp; his hair all came out, and he suffered very much. I had a physician treat him, but at the end of three months he was no better. I remembered that the Cuticura Remedies had cured me, and after giving him two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, according to directions, and using Cuticura Soap and Ointment on him daily, the eczema left him, his hair grew again, and neither he nor myself have had any eczema since."

As to his own case, Mr. Barnett says: "I suffered with eczema, a burning, itching, breaking out on my face for more than a year. I took treatments from physicians for several months, which did no good. I was then advised to try Cuticura. I took six bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and used Cuticura Soap and Ointment freely every day. I began to improve soon after starting to use them, and when I had taken the six bottles of the Resolvent my face had become normal. I had good color, and all eruptions had left me."

"We use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment in our family now for general use, and it keeps our skin soft and healthy. I cheerfully recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all cases of eczema. (Signed) A. C. Barnett, Avard, Oklahoma, Mar. 30, 1905."

Where the Millions of Postal Cards Come From

Big Factory in Maine Which Turns Out 2,500,000 of Them Every Day for Uncle Sam

Considered from the standpoint of the individual, the postal card is such a insignificant bit of pasteboard that few stop to think what Uncle Sam's postal card business in the total amounts to. Millions of them! Tons upon tons of them! Train load after train load of them! And where do they all come from? From Maine.

While the small oblong piece of pasteboard, which presents the easiest way of communication through the mails, is rarely considered as a product, the fact of the matter is that cardboards upon cardboards go to the chief cities of the country. Cities like Boston and New York use on an average more than two cardboards of postal cards a month, and the making of the cardboards, the printing and the cutting are all done in Maine. At Rumford Falls this one product forms one of the great industries of the place, and it will continue to be so for at least the next four years for the government contract for the manufacture of these postal cards has just been again awarded to the paper company there.

Under the previous contracts there were manufactured during the preceding two years 3,200,000,000 postal cards and 60,000,000 were made during the month of June last.

There pass through Boston daily in registered mail cars 3,500,000 postal cards on their way from Rumford Falls, Me., to the sub-agencies scattered over the country.

The cards may be said to be entirely a Maine product. The logs are taken directly from the Maine spruce forests and chemically transformed into the pulp from which the postal paper is made at the Oxford mill.

The Mills Where Uncle Sam's Postal Cards Are Made.

After the logs have been chewed up and chemically treated the pulp flows into a big vat called the "digester." Here the pulp becomes a rich churning, but is in reality the solution from which the cards are made—cards that will later carry written messages all over the civilized world.

The wood pulp is flowed out on a screen of such fine mesh that the paper is long in gathering, and the result of this meshing is an ordinary thorough shaking is a firm, smooth card of the familiar cream yellow, free from inequalities of texture and free from all flecks or shadows when held to the light.

In the big, clean finishing room, where the floor is littered with a cluster of book and news paper, sit a score or more neatly attired women, busy and happy, smoothing the great sheets of book and postal stock into place. The least defect in the surface is detected at once by their super-sensitive finger tips, and sheet after sheet is rejected for a blemish invisible save to touch.

Great trucks carry the postal paper to the printing establishment, but before the presses are set to work each truckful must be inspected by a government inspector. This inspector first applies the bulk gauge, to prove that the postal card is up to standard in thickness.

The contract requires that each sheet be one-eleven-thousandths part of an inch in thickness. So if the needle whirled around the face of the indicator and stops again at the right mark. The second requirement is that every sheet shall endure the test of 50 pounds pressure to the square inch. So into the strength tester goes the sheet from the truck load, the pressure is applied and the indicator shows the value of the sheet.

The "blind man's test" or German test, is the third to prove that the surface of the card is properly retained, sized or finished. It is an application of vigorous pen and ink. Should the ink be absorbed, the surface is inferior in its glaze. When the markings are plainly apparent to the touch with "blind eyes," the card is satisfactory.

Each sheet of stock fed into the printing press is registered automatically, so that an exact tally can be kept of all cards printed.

The two presses have a united capacity of 3,000,000 cards daily. As the cards are printed in big sheets the best thing to do is to cut them out the right size. There are four cutting machines. One cuts them into long strips, one postal card in width. The three smaller machines cut the strips into the postal cards of regulation size as we buy them at the post office.

Three alert young women feed these strips into the cutters. When 25 cards are bitten off by the sharp knives of the machine, the receiving rack is turned over and the quarter-hundred cards are bound into a packet with a gummed paper strip.

The girls who gum the packages together have to be very spry. With a dozen gummed strips held between their lips, their trained fingers hover over the straight edged packs of postal cards like burning birds, till with a dash and a flutter the hand is in place and a second packet is in readiness for a hand.

One young woman is behind each machine to box these packets, and others are kept busy folding the pasteboard boxes in which they are packed, 500 cards being placed in a box.

The pasteboard packages are placed in wooden boxes of different size. They hold 5,000, 10,000 and 50,000 cards. The boxes are very strong and are nailed together at the postal card mill by machinery.

From Rumford Falls, which is called the chief agency, shipments are made to the sub-agencies, which are Washington, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Troy, N. Y.

All smaller offices in the United States must make requisition to these sub-agencies for cards, unless they are in the list of cities whose business is so extensive in postal cards as to require carload shipments.

The Mills Where Uncle Sam's Postal Cards Are Made.

These are Baltimore, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Kansas City, Brooklyn, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, San Francisco, Boston and New York.

The average amount of messages written in Boston on postal cards is so great that two carload lots a month are required. The New York shipment is even larger.

There is no busy season in the card mill. The same amount is printed any day of the year. The government requires that a certain amount must be kept on hand at the factory. These are kept in a fire and burglar proof vault which has a capacity for holding 100,000,000 cards.

Novel Life Insurance.

A curious form of life insurance was introduced some years ago in French manufacturing towns under the name of La Poudre (the ant). The peculiarity is that the longer a man lives the less he becomes entitled to. The payment of about a dollar a month assures the payment of $1,000 to the heirs of a man dying before the age of 35, the payment diminishing proportionately to $50 at 51. The idea seems to be that if a man dies young his children are likely to be in want, but when he is 50 they will be able to earn their own living.

Electric Cloth the Latest.

M. Camille Herriott, a well-known French engineer, is said to have invented a peculiar method of charging cloth with electricity in order to furnish heat to the wearer in cold weather. The idea is carried out by means of fine electric wires woven into the cloth, to charge which a very fine battery is needed. He calls his invention "The Electric Thermophile," and claims for it that it can be used in connection with all kinds of fabrics, and does not alter their ordinary appearance or their usual flexibility.

50,250 People on Each Train.

The average number of passengers in each railroad train in the United States in 1904 was 50,250. This represents a growth from about thirty-nine a train, in 1898, but is still far below the development attained abroad. In 1898 Germany carried an average of seventy-one persons in each train and India had the large figure of 189. The development of the electric railway in this country and the frequent train service help to keep down the average.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Wrestling as a branch of athletics is as ancient as the human race, and is an essentially manly exercise. It tends to give strength and firmness, together with quickness and pliability to the limbs, muscular vigor to the body and coolness and quick discrimination to the head, and to be in good shape for a bout on the mat an athlete must be in the most perfect physical condition. There are as many styles of wrestling as there are countries on the face of the earth, but the most popular and the one best known and most generally followed in the United States is the Græco-Roman style, sometimes called, especially in England, the Continental style.

Græco-Roman wrestling first became popular in this country early in the seventies, when New York was invaded by a group of foreigners—Prof. William Miller, an Australian Hercules; Christol, a Frenchman; Bauer, an Alsatian; and Lucien Mox, a Belgian—who took the city by storm with the new game, and whose exhibitions crowded the biggest buildings from pit to gallery. The first of the big matches took place between Miller and Chris-tol, and lasted until after midnight. Miller won.

With the Japanese wrestling is inherent, and it is as much their national sport as bull fighting is with the Spaniards, and it not only provides entertainment for the masses, but is also patronized by the nobility, who avoid the theater as vulgar and fit only for the common people. All Japanese wrestling is preceded by a lot of preliminary performances by the wrestlers—stamping of the feet, stretching of the arms, raising the mouth with water, wiping the face with paper and throwing salt into the ring—but when the wrestlers do get to work there is "something doing" all the time. The wrestler who throws his opponent twice out of three times is the victor. The method of gripping the antagonist is known as "te," or hands, of which there are four groups, known as throwing, grasping, twisting and bending. These four groups are divided into 12 "te," or hands, so that there are 48 recognized holds.

If any part of the wrestler's body—his hand or knee—touches the ground he is considered thrown. This renders each separate bout a shorter affair, and for this reason condition is of no great advantage, and no Japanese wrestler ever trains, but eats what he likes and drinks as much as he likes and when he likes. If the contestants become too exhausted they are separated, allowed to drink and rest, and are then replaced in exactly the same relative position as when separated. The minute exactitude with which they are replaced is one of the accomplishments of an experienced umpire. The defeated wrestler leaves the ring without ceremony after the bout, the victor squats down in the ring and the umpire, pointing at him with his fan, calls out his name.

The Swiss method of wrestling is very different to the English. The competitors strip to their shirts and hose. The latter are of twill, and are made of double and even treble thickness at the knees. The right hand of each wrestler grasps the waist band and the left the knee band of his adversary. The head of each locks over the other's shoulders, while the legs are kept well apart, and the left is as far back as possible; the aim of each is to lift his antagonist and get him with his back on the ground.

A rare wrestling match took place last winter high up in the snow capped Alps. Two strangers met in a village beer house and their conversation drifted to "Ringen," as the Swiss wrestling is called, and it came about that both proved their claim to the championship of their cantons. Then and there, without articles of agreement, without witnesses and with no referee, the men went into the cold and wet and wrestled for the glory of their cantons.

L. & N. Accommodation Departs Over An Hour Later.

The new time card on this division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, which went into effect Sunday, made several changes in the departure of trains from this place. No. 53, the Chicago and St. Louis Limited, south-bound, passes here at 6:12 a. m., instead of 5:47 a. m. No. 52, the north-bound St. Louis Express, passes here at 10:08 a. m., instead of 9:41 a. m., or twenty-seven minutes later than formerly. No. 92, the Chicago and New Orleans Limited, north bound, leaves here at 5:45 a. m., instead of 5:17. The time of the last named train was only changed two minutes. All connections are made promptly at Guthrie and at Nashville, as formerly.

TEN ARRESTS.

Police Landed That Number Saturday and Sunday Night.

The large crowd, principally negroes, in the city Saturday gave the police more than they have had for a month. The negroes did not go inside the carnival grounds, but lined up on each side of the street leading to them in large numbers. Those bibulously inclined got too full of booze, and though the officers were disposed to let them enjoy the day if they were not boisterous, some of them got on a big drunk and spent a night in the lockup. In fact drunkenness led to the arrest of the whole ten, except one, who was taken in charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Human Blood Marks.

It cures hemorrhages, chronic coughs, settled colds and bronchitis, and is the only known cure for weak lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.
